

Flower Blooming in the Wildwood - Bill Clifton

Bluegrass Classic, Key of A^b My Key: ____

INTRO: 2X (1 , 4 , 5 , 1) , (extra two beats)

On one 1 evening long ago, as the 4 sun was sinking low
My true 5 lover went to sail upon the 1 sea
It was 1 in the month of June, and the 4 roses were in bloom
When he 5 tucked me in his arms and said to 1 me

CHORUS: You're a 1 flow,er, blooming in the wild,wood
A 1 flow,er blooming there for 5 me
Sweeter 1 than the morning dew
And I'll 4 soon return to you
You're a 5 flower that, is blooming there for 1 me

INSTRUMENTAL: 1 , 1 , 1 , 5 , 1 , 4 , 5 , 1
(extra two beats)

Then a 1 letter came to me, from the 4 captain of the sea
And it 5 told, me my darling was 1 dead
Oh the 1 shock and great surprise
Made the 4 teardrops dim my eyes
And I 5 thought about the last words that he 1 said

CHORUS

INSTRUMENTAL: Same as INTRO

Now he 1 can't return to me, he got 4 drowned, in the sea
And has 5 passed, over life's, weary 1 way
When it's 1 in the month of June, and the 4 roses are in bloom
It 5 seems, that-I can hear my lover 1 say

CHORUS

1 = A ^b
4 = D ^b
5 = E ^b
