

I'm Still To Blame - Johnson Mountain Boys

Bluegrass Classic, Key of G My Key: ____

INTRO: 1 , 4 1 , 1 , 5 , 1 , 4 1 , 1 5 , 1

If to- 1 day the sun should set
And-night find 4 me in bitter 1 tears
1 I'll know, that the fault is all my 5 own
With shadows 1 fallin' all around
Dark'nin' the 4 streets of this old 1 town
I 1 know I can't grow 5 old dear all a- 1 lone

CHORUS:

I 4 have, no reason, to re- 1 turn, home now
I'll 1 hang, my head and cry in 5 shame
The 4 nights are always cold, for a 1 prisoner girl I know
And 5 darlin', I know I'm still to 1 blame

INSTRUMENTAL: Same as INTRO

As the 1 days go rollin' by
Time has 4 tried to dim my 1 eyes
But the 1 memory of our love dear still holds 5 strong
I still 1 hold you in my arms
I'm still 4 home where I be- 1 long
For 1 in my dreams you'll 5 never never 1 die

CHORUS / INSTRUMENTAL

The roads I 1 chose to travel on, now I 4 realize are 1 gone
Too 1 late for you, to ever care a- 5 gain
Too-late to 1 take back all the lies
Or to 4 dry my weepin' 1 eyes
I 1 should have known just 5 where the road would 1 end

CHORUS

1 = G
4 = C
5 = D
