Johnson Mountain Boys Bluegrass Classic, Key of E My Key: ____

INTRO: 5 , 1

The road that winds 1 back,, so deep in the 5 mountains
Is a lonesome old 4 place, 5 , now that you're 1 gone
The mistakes that I've 1 made,, I still think, a- 5 bout 'em
As I come to the 4 place, 5 , I used to call 1 home

CHORUS:

There's a small rocky 4 path,
Leads back from, the 1 home place
As I walk the last 1 hill,, the wind seems to 5 moan
Once again the moon 1 shines,, and a tear rolls from my face
As I-place a small 5 rose,, on a weathered, gray 1 stone

TURNAROUND: 4 , 1 , 5 , 1

The moon cuts a 1 path,, through clouds in the 5 heaven
It lights up the 4 hills, 5 , where we used to 1 roam
My memory 1 bright,,-ens two vows that were 5 broken
Once again the moon 4 hides, 5 , I'm in darkness, a- 1 lone

CHORUS

TURNAROUND: 5 , 1

If I-had but one 1 chance,, dear God I would 5 never Leave my little 4 dar,- 5 lin', so cold and, a- 1 lone
My mind'll-be tor- 1 ment,,ed I know now, for- 5 ever
Since they buried my 4 heart, 5 , 'neath a weathered, gray 1 stone

CHORUS

As I-place a small 5 rose,

SLOW DOWN: on a weathered, gray, 1 stone
