I was twenty one 2m years, when 5 I, wrote this 1 song

I threw a 2m pebble, 5 in, a 1 brook
And watched, the 1 ripples, 4 run, a- 1 way
But they 4 never, made a 5 sound
And the 1 leaves, 7<sup>b</sup> that are, 4 green 5 turn to 1 brown (extra two beats)
And they 6m wither with the wind,
And they 4 crumble in your 5 hand,

Once my 1 heart, was 2m filled, with the 5 love, of a 1 girl
I held her 1 close, but she 4 faded in the 1 night
Like a 4 po,em, I meant to 5 write
